

Here is the story by Elizabeth Auld, age 5.

Angel Cat's Owie

One day there was a family. They were out on a walk when they spotted a big cat. They didn't know where the cat came from. Then an old lady came. She said that the big cat was hers. She asked them where they found her. The family told her they saw it in the middle of the park.

Then the ginormous cat started to stomp like a giant! The old lady said she hadn't seen her do that before. The family spotted an owie on her foot. They managed to put a plaster on it before she stomped away. The big cat stopped and went home with the lady. And then they all lived happily ever after.

The end.
